MOB ATTACKED RUSHVILLE MAN

Rioters Would Have Killed Frank Brown in Columbus but for Republican Friend.

TWO SHOTS FIRED AT RIOTERS

Brown and "Bill" Stewart Had to Make a Quick Get-away at Point of Gun.

"Kill the nigger!" Mob the black rascal!" "Kill the black Republican," and similar shouts from an angry mob in Columbus last night sent the chill blood of a thousand spectators curdling through their veins, as suitable actions were being fitted to the threats of the crowd of fifty or more that attacked Frank Brown, a colored boy of Rushville.

For a time it looked dangerous for Brown and many who stood about with bated breath thought he would be the victim of the angry mob's handiwork.

Together with William Stewart, colored, Brown was on his way to the Pennsylvania train to return home when he was accosted by two or three young men. One of them stepped forward and deliberately stepped on Brown's foot, shouting at the top of his voice in Brown's ear for Marshall. Brown resented the "smart alec's" attack with a word or two and the fight was on.

The fellows had been looking for trouble. And they got it. Cowardly though was their attack for at least a dozen rained blows upon Brown and Stewart. At this juncture, George Bassett, a brother of Elmer Bassett of Shelbyville, former prosecuting attorney here, took a hand in the affair, seeing so many on the two local fellows, and before many moments had elapsed, succeeded in knocking down about six or eight of the cowardly rioters. Bassett said afterwards if some one would have kept them off him he would have whipped everyone in the crowd, one at a time.

Before the fighting had gone far, at least fifty had taken a hand. At this point, it is said, Brown pulled a gun and fired two shots into the crowd. Neither took effect, but the shooting had the desired effect of breaking up the riot. Brown and Stewart then ran for their lives from the mob. Stewart darted around a residence while Brown rushed through, going in the front door and out the back. It was a deplorable affair and wholly unavoidable on the part of the Rushville participants. At one time it looked like a race riot was sure to result and taking all things in consideration, it had a lucky termination.

BIG NIGHT IN COLUMBUS

Army of Rushville People Go On Special Train to See and Hear "Their Jim."

One old soldier said it was the first time he had marched behind a drum corps since he left the army. "I tell you it was great," he said, "and I never had as much fun in my life."

Never before was there such a scene in a railway station as was witnessed last night, where hundreds of people tried to buy tickets for the Watson Special. Pandemonium reigned but all kept in good humor.

Shelbyville did her part nicely, sending a delegation of over six hundred.

We have a prophet in "Our Jim" who is with honor in his own country.

Oh yes, the Republicans are not of the demonstrative kind this fall! Never did anyone see a more enthusiastic bunch.

The old soldiers were out in goodly numbers and nobody enjoyed the trip more than they. This morning their good wives were blowing the old familiar blasts: "Can't get 'em up—can't get 'em up."

Why wouldn't it be doing the handsome and the right thing to send a similar delegation to Indianapolis when Watson is there? The I. & C. would gladly give you a fifty cent excursion rate and Rush county would turn out en masse to do their distinguished son the honor of their presence.

By actual count there were more Republicans aboard the Watson Special that left here last night than the number of auditors at any Democratic meeting held in Rush county this campaign—the Tom Marshall meeting not excepted.

Gee! It must have been an awful experience to be a Democrat in Rushville last night.

When the Rushville train pulled into Columbus, with bands playing, drum corps vigorously at work on a merry tattoo, hundreds shouting and singing the praises of Watson, and every car window opened with hands extended out holding red lights and shooting Roman candles, it was a scene not soon to be forgotten.

You can talk all you like but such things have a tendency to start a ball of enthusiasm rolling that will grow into mighty proportions before election day.

Now we havestruck the right pitch—don't lose the key.

Al Simmes was among the few Democrats who went along. He was there, he said, because he was proud he lived in Watson's town.

The Democrats grow more doleful as the days grow shorter. One or two more good, old fashioned Republican demonstrations and there will be a number of cases of heart failure here.

There were over twelve hundred tickets collected by the conductors on the Special, Shelbyville and Rushville sending about an equal number.

If it hadn't been for that Columbus diphtheria scare—but what's the use. Some people cannot help being mean and will resort to low, dirty methods. It crops out on them and shows their breeding, no matter how hard they try to live it down.

Maybe you think the colored delegation didn't have a great night of it. They were out in large numbers.

One thing the Democrats of Columbus are to be commended for and that is the gentlemanly and sensible view they took of the situation. They realized it was going to be a great Republican night and thoughtfully and most gentlemanly decorated their headquarters with Watson pictures galore. 'Tis a pity indeed, that such a feeling could not be manifested here, but local leaders are so dominated by saloon men and are so narrow minded that they must always turn to low, mean tactics and they would far rather slur than act decent in matters politically. If they were only wise enough to know that such things react and is losing votes every day in Rush county they would call a halt. But a lot of inexperienced men are in charge of affairs and we might well say, "Lord forgive them for they know not what they do."

To get an idea of the brand of enthusiasm unbridled one need but chronicle the doings of one of the musical organizations aboard the Special. Herbert Flint, Lon Stewart, Albert Capp, Walter Hubbard, Ben Norris, Court Levi and "Red"—Kramer's butcher—formed a Floradora sextette that went from coach to coach singing, "We're here because we're here because."

Columbus people declared it was the greatest political rally and parade ever given in that city.

George Payne delivered one of his characteristic speeches from the rear of the train about one o'clock this morning to an enthusiastic crowd at St. Louis Crossing.

The Rushville band made good, and strong. Patriotic airs and old battle marches were played to "who tied Coley." The Republican party can, in truth, win an election with nothing else but music. Those old army airs routs the Democrats for they remember then the birth of the Republican party that has kept them out of power for fifty years, save the two terms by Cleveland—and it was born with martial airs.

The great crowd in the city hall at Columbus sat on the tip-toe of expectancy—especially the "women folks"—awaiting the arrival of Mrs. James E. Watson. Hundreds of necks were craned when the Rushville delegation tried to gain entrance into the hall to get a glimpse of "Their Jim." Mrs. Watson was escorted down the aisle and a smile played on Jim's face as he saw her. The people applauded vigorously and when she stepped upon the platform and the next governor of Indiana leaned forward and kissed his wife a cheer went up and it sent a thrill over all present. Mrs. Watson has not seen much of her husband since the beginning of the campaign.

John Titsworth acted as chaperon for the crowd of women who attended Mrs. Watson and it was with the greatest effort that he succeeded in securing a place for them on the stage.

Watson's speech was a masterpiece. Without a doubt, he is the greatest campaigner in the United States. This fact was long ago conceded in the East. It is taking us some time to wake up out here.

Fred A. Capp was the official announcer on the train and organized the Rushville and Shelbyville delegation for the Columbus parade.

Watson was proud of the crowd from Rushville and the crowd was proud of Watson.

Incidentally, it was a great night for Rushville—no mean city. On all hands one could hear: "Well, it goes without saying, Rushville is a city that always does everything about right."

Watson must not have no less than 500 plurality in Rush county—and as many more as the people care to give him.

The Rushville Watson drum corps got their drums at the eleventh hour yesterday, but lack of practice did not hinder them from making as much noise and "good music" as the best aboard. Nothing to it, a drum corps is the thing for political meetings. Like George Cohan says: "There's a feeling comes a stealing—and it sets your brain a reeling."

The ladies seemed to enjoy marching all over Columbus in the parade. It was for "Our Jim" and did it in a free and generous spirit.

The Columbus homes were beautifully decorated and illuminated for the parade. All along the line of march were hundreds of pictures of Watson and Taft.

The only thing slow about the whole thing was the train coming back last night. It crept along like a snail. And to say that the passengers owned it, body and soul, is putting it lightly. To "help along" the slowness of the train, a number of young fellows would turn off the air and bring the train to a dead stop. Others got off and would run along side of the train, going up to the engineer, to implore with him to put on a little more speed. Other buffoons bantered each other in running back through corn fields along the right-of-way.

Miss Alice Norris led a howling host of women up the streets of Columbus and they got a cheer all along the line.

The demonstration will have a good effect in three counties.

Some of the best, old Republicans of Rushville whom the saloon men here have been saying would vote the Democratic ticket this fall, were among the most enthusiastic persons aboard the special. They were blowing horns and "cutting up high jinks for all that was out." Another Democratic fallacy exploded.

The Young Men's Watson club turned out in goodly numbers and took an active part in the big demonstration.

"A man can best be judged by what his neighbors think of him," said Watson last night, displaying great emotion on seeing the home people march in, "and I cannot begin to express my gratitude for this generous outpouring of those who call me neighbor and fellow townsman." It was indeed a hearty endorsement.

Think of it! A number of Rushville people heard Watson speak for the first time in years last night. And they listened in open-mouthed wonderment to the peerless orator. Many were heard to say, returning on the train, "We who live here do not appreciate what a great man Watson really is."

Some fellows, wild with enthusiasm and imbued with the spirit of the occasion, last night ventured that Watson's majority in Rush county would be over one thousand. Well, it ought to be. He is a son we can well feel proud of. Many of the great party leaders have mentioned his name in connection with the presidency of the United States time and again. He is good timber and would fill the bill with much credit to the party, if ever the call should come.

Oliver Carson, of Indianapolis, who has been over the State considerably in this campaign, says that Watson draws from fifty to two hundred per cent more people to hear him than does Tom Marshall. Why shouldn't he?

Watson was in bad voice last night, being so hoarse he could hardly be heard fifty feet away when he first began talking. Soon he warmed up and thawed out, making one of the best political speeches heard in Columbus.

One drum corps, with all the vigor of youth, and like a boy with a new toy, played on their drums and kept marching all the evening, even after the parade was over and the speaking was on. A Rushville man, together with about twenty-five others, thought the parade was still going and kept tramping over the streets behind the martial band. "Did you hear the speaking?" was asked of the Rushville man, who "paraded." "Nope," he returned, "they kept me a going until I was most wore out and then I learned that it wasn't any regular parade at all that I was in, but following a lot of fool kids beating on drums. I missed the speaking."

HALL'S HOME WAS BURNED TO GROUND

Candidate for Prosecutor Was Heavy

Losers in Disastrous Fire Near Shelbyville.

ORIGIN OF FIRE A MYSTERY

Shelbyville Republican: The residence of J. Oscar Hall, candidate for prosecuting attorney, burned to the ground Tuesday afternoon together with the contents, the loss probably reaching $1000 with a small amount of insurance.

Mr. Hall resided with his family in a six room house about two miles southeast of town on the Amos pike. They were in the city yesterday making purchases and while here were notified that their property was a mass of flames. The structure was entirely destroyed together with the contents.

The origin of the fire is very much of a mystery to both Mr. and Mrs. Hall.

Hamburg has more firemen in proportion to her size than any other city in the world.

WAS STRUCK BY FAST FREIGHT

Roy Steele is in Serious Condition as Result of an Accident at Milroy.

TEAM OF HORSES WAS KILLED

Driver Was Thrown Twenty Feet in Air When Train Struck the Outfit.

Roy Steele had a miraculous escape from death at Milroy Tuesday afternoon, and is in a serious condition. While driving east on Main street in Milroy his team was struck by a Big Four through freight about 3 o'clock. Both horses were killed and Steele was severely shaken up and his foot badly crushed. Whether or not he is internally injured physicians have not been able to tell.

Steele who is 17 years old was employed by Orpheus Horton north-east of Milroy, and had gone to Milroy with the wagon and team. It was about 3 o'clock when he started to drive over the Big Four crossing in Main street. He did not hear the train and just as the horses were on the track the train, running at a high rate of speed, struck them. They were instantly killed and carried a distance of several yards. Steele was thrown 20 feet into the air but fortunately did not drop under the moving train. His foot was badly crushed in the wreck and was severely shaken up and bruised by the fall. It was thought for a time that Steele was dying.

D. J. C. Sexton was called and the injured man was brought to the Sexton sanitarium.

He was resting easy today.

W. H. TAFT TO SPEAK HERE OCTOBER 23

Itinery of Republican Presidential Candidate Includes a Stop in This City.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS DEFINITE

He's coming. The next President of the United States will speak in this city on October 23. And that's just one week from next Friday.

Since it was announced that W. H. Taft, candidate for President, would make an itinery in Indiana there has been a lingering hope here that he would come through this city. The plan of the three days trip was announced last night and Rushville is in the lucky list.

Definite plans for the meeting have not been made yet, and it is not definitely known how long he will be in this city. It is probable that his special train will come over the Big Four as he makes a speech at Knightstown before coming here. Senator Hemenway will make the trip with Mr. Taft, and it is possible that James E. Watson will make a few speeches with him. Definite arrangements for the meeting, time and place and other details will be made public in a short time.

SPEAKING OF ISSUES.

UNCLE SAM'S POLITICAL STORAGE

—From the Philadelphia Press.

TRUE PROPHEIS AND FALSE.

HOW TO TEST THEM.

"I will not deny that there may be prophets to-day, but the trouble is to tell the true prophets from the false ones. The Bible says that false prophets will rise. It tells us how to distinguish the false from the true. It says: 'By their fruits ye shall know them.'—William J. Bryan's Speech at Baltimore, Jan. 20, 1900.

BRYAN PROPHECIES.

THE ANSWERS.

"TARIFF WILL CRUSH THE FARMER."

1892, Free Trade.

"Thus in every State, so far as these statistics have been collected, the proportion of home-owning farmers is decreasing and that of tenant farmers increasing. This means but one thing: it means a land of landlords and tenants, and, backed by the history of every nation that has gone down, I say to you that no people can continue a free people under a free government when the great majority of its citizens are tenants of a small minority."—William J. Bryan; speech on the protective tariff in the National House of Representatives, March 16, 1892.

The answer is found in the prevailing good prices for grain, corn, hogs, cattle, hay and all the products of the farm, together with the fact that since the date of Candidate Bryan's "crushing" speech, Western farm lands have doubled in value, and thousands of "tenant" farmers of that date have become prosperous home-owners, tilling their own land in peace, happiness and plenty. Under the National Irrigation Act, and the Republican conservation movement, the West is soon to be the intense agricultural and horticultural producing area of the United States.

"GOLD STANDARD WILL DESTROY HOMES."

1896, Free Coinage!—16 to 1.

"I reply that, if protection has slain its thousands, the gold standard has slain its tens of thousands."—William J. Bryan; speech at Democratic National Convention, July, 1896. "The Democratic party has begun a war of extermination against the gold standard. We ask no quarter; we give no quarter. We shall prosecute our warfare until there is not an American citizen who dares to advocate the gold standard. You ask why? We reply that the gold standard is a conspiracy against the human race, and that we should no more join in it than we would an army to destroy our homes and to destroy our families."—William J. Bryan; speech at Albany, N. Y., August, 1896.

The gold standard has "slain" no one, nor did it write the "future in blood," nor did it destroy our homes nor foreclose the farm mortgage, nor did it close the district school; on the contrary, it has proved the sound and solid foundation of widespread prosperity, leading to individual progress and happiness, aided in paying off the farm mortgage and expanding the country's educational facilities.

It has brought such prosperity to our country as was never known before. Americans are the happiest and most prosperous people on earth to-day.

"NO MORE FOURTH OF JULY."

1900, Imperialism!

"The fight this year will be to carry out the sentiment of that song we have so often repeated: 'My Country, 'tis of Thee.' If we lose, our children and our children's children will not succeed to the spirit of that song, and celebrations of the Fourth of July will pass away, for the spirit of Empire will be upon us."—William J. Bryan; speech to the Bryan Home Guards, Lincoln, Neb., July, 1900.

The answer is for yourself. Do you know of any spot in the United States where the spirit of 1776 is dead and forgotten and the Fourth of July a meaningless date on the calendar? On the other hand the humblest citizen is growing prouder of his American citizenship and the spirit of 1776 is permeating the entire body politic.

"ROOSEVELT THE SPIRIT OF WAR."

1904, Anti-Roosevelt.

"I would rather go down to eternal oblivion than be instrumental in the election of Roosevelt."—William J. Bryan, Oct. 17, 1904, while touring Indiana.

"The surrender of the present Influences furnishes an excellent proof of the wisdom of Judge Parker in making the statement he has. But President Roosevelt stands for militarism. . . . The present occupant of the White House (Roosevelt) represents in an aggravated form the warlike spirit, as contrasted with the pacific policy that has heretofore characterized our nation."—William J. Bryan, in a speech at Springfield, Mo., Sept. 1, 1904, where he accused President Roosevelt of surrendering to the corporations and holding "bloody, brutal and barbarous" sentiments.

President Roosevelt, instead of representing the "spirit of war," stands before the world the greatest exemplar of international peace in his generation. History will in full season award him the titles he has justly won, and the greatest of these will be "The Peacemaker." In spite of Candidate Bryan's assault upon him in 1904. Under President Roosevelt's policies the United States has taken its place in the front rank of world powers. Taft is committed to continuing these policies.

"GOVERNMENT MUST OWN RAILWAYS."

1906, Government Ownership of Railways.

"I have already reached the conclusion that railroads partake so much of the nature of a monopoly that they must ultimately become public property, and be managed by public officials in the interest of the whole community."—William J. Bryan; Home-coming speech at New York City, August, 1906.

The broad meaning of Candidate Bryan's remarks on this subject is that railway regulation by statute law is impossible, and that "government ownership" is the only remedy for transportation abuses. The enactment of the Federal Rate Law has totally disproved the claims of Candidate Bryan and vividly displayed his unsound reasoning on great public questions.

LEADERSON WATSON

Fairbanks and Beveridge Pay Tribute to Next Governor of Indiana.

The Republican party is firmly united and harmonious. The leaders are loyally working for the success of the ticket. Mr. Watson has the hearty support of Fairbanks, Beveridge and Hemenway. In his speech at Lebanon Vice President Fairbanks paid the following tribute to the Republican candidate for governor:

"He has been honest, brave, straightforward, able and forceful in the discharge of his public functions. If called to the governor's chair of Indiana the distinguished congressman will keep his faith with the people and maintain the high record of the office set by his distinguished predecessors by devotion to duty and by bringing to the service intelligent, business-like judgment. We have presented a man well worthy the confidence and support of the people of the state, the Hon. James E. Watson. Mr. Watson professes no virtues superior to his party, but is always to be found loyally standing up for it, courageously and without apology. He took his stand squarely, and strongly in support of the platform of his party, and when the supreme test came, when the fate of the local option bill was in the balance, he threw the weight of his potential influence on the side of the measure and is entitled to his full share of the credit for the enactment of the law to which his party stood pledged, and which was clearly demanded by a majority of the people of the state. He neither sought to shirk nor evade the issue, but boldly championed his party's cause and made good the party's pledge."

Senator Beveridge in his first speech in the state, at Terre Haute, praised Mr. Watson in the following words:

"Our candidate has had twelve years' experience in congress. He has risen by force of peculiar qualities to be the 'whip' of the house, and when we remember that the house has nearly 400 members, of whom nearly 300 are Republicans, we see how great that distinction is. He is able; he is highly trained, and is one of the most brilliant orators that Indiana has produced. The Republican party has chosen him as our standard bearer, and now let every Republican rally around that standard and by an overwhelming majority elect as the next governor of Indiana that eloquent man and skilled legislator, James E. Watson."

While a majority of the people's representatives in the legislature obeyed the will of the majority of their constituents in passing the county local option law, the high duty of all temperance men of all parties is to endorse their action at the polls in November. The first Tuesday of next month is a real referendum day in Indiana. Mr. Taft says his mission is to help clinch the Roosevelt policies. Take a tip from Taft and forget not your mission to clinch the leading policy of the Republican party in Indiana this year—and get as many as you can to join you in your dutiful mission.

Tom Marshall has made his record as the willing tool of Tom Taggart and the brewery and saloon combine. He put forth every possible effort to prevent the enactment of the county local option law. He has willingly taken orders from the boss gamblers of the state and has prostrated himself at the boots of the brewery trust. He has failed. Henceforth, to the end of the campaign he must put in his time serving his masters. It all must mean that if elected he will do all in his power to accomplish the repeal of the county option law. In no other way can he be consistent. In no other way can he continue to wear the collar of the brewery trust.—Kokomo Tribune.

There is no question as to what the issue is in Indiana this year in view of the character of the fight at Muncie. The question up to the people is: "Shall the brewers rule, or shall the people manage their own affairs?" Whatever the outcome the cause as posposed by the Republican party is one for which the Republican party can afford to be defeated, if need be. However, it has no intention whatever of getting licked.—Marion Chronicle.

The paramount issue of this campaign has been settled, a little prematurely, it is true, but satisfactorily to the majority of the people in this state. A Republican victory is now assured.—Rushville Republican.

AS ROOSEVELT SEES BRYAN.

"You say that you have advocated more radical measures against private monopolies than either I or my party associates have been willing to undertake. You have, indeed, advocated measures that sound more radical, but they have the prime defect that in practice they would not work. I should not in this letter to you discuss your attitude on this question if you did not yourself bring it up, but as you have brought it up, I answer you that in my judgment the measures you advocate would be wholly ineffective in curing a single evil, and so far as they had any effect at all, would merely throw the entire business of the country into hopeless and utter confusion. I put Mr. Taft's deeds against your words. I ask that you be judged both by the words you wish remembered, and by the words that seemingly you and your party now desire to have forgotten. . . . I hold it entirely natural for any great law-defying corporation to wish to see you placed in the Presidency rather than Mr. Taft. Your plans to put a stop to the abuses of these corporations are wholly chimerical. — Theodore Roosevelt."

SOLD OUT THEIR LOCAL UNION

President of Illinois Miners on Witness Stand.

AN ASTONISHING REVELATION

President John H. Walker Testifies as to the Part He Took in Acquiring in the Employment of Members of the Union by the National Manufacturers' Association to Reveal the Secrets of the Union and the Sentiments of Its Members to the Association in Question.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14.—John H. Walker, president of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, testified in the contempt of court case against Samuel Gompers, president; Robert Morrison, secretary, and John Mitchell, member of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor, who are charged with contempt of court in the alleged violation of the injunction issued by the supreme court of the District of Columbia, against the officers of the American Federation of Labor, in which they are enjoined from declaring a boycott or with otherwise interfering with the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis. The depositions were taken before Attorney Edward F. Irwin, notary public. Mr. Walker testified as to the high standing of John Mitchell, and also testified that members of the miners' union at both Murphysboro and Duquoin had informed him that they had been approached by representatives of a detective agency, who stated that they were empowered to offer the miners $22 per week to report to the National Manufacturers' association the doings of the union and the feelings of the members of the union and to make reports to the National Manufacturers' association, and had asked his advice as to what course to pursue. He testified he had told them to accept the proposition of the agents of the detective association and to make duplicates of their reports made to the National Manufacturers' association and give them to him. President Walker also read a letter which had come into his hands which purported to be sent by the Corporation Auxiliary company, with offices in the Chamber of Commerce building in Cleveland, O., to the Great Eastern Telephone company of New York to A. M. Todd & Co., of Kalamazoo, Mich., and other manufacturers throughout the state, offering to send reports of the annual meeting of the American Federation of Labor held at Denver, Col., commencing Nov. 8, 1908, including the proceedings of the secret sessions for $15 to each corporation or firm and calling attention to the fact that in view of the important labor legislation which would come up before congress this winter that it would be well worth the money of the firm or corporation to pay that amount for the proceedings.

Nominee Commands Attention. East Liverpool, O., Oct. 14.—In the midst of the steel and iron district of Cleveland, William H. Taft commanded the closest attention of an immense audience proverbially regarded as the hardest place in the state of Ohio for a political speaker to obtain a respectful hearing. This meeting Mr. Taft considers the most effective he has had on his present trip because of the character of the audience, its known Democratic and Socialistic tendencies and the success he had in riveting attention.

Comedy of the Campaign. Chicago, Oct. 14.—Republican doctrine received unexpected publicity yesterday when two vandals of campaign literature was unloaded in the mailing room of Democratic national headquarters. The literature, intended for Republican headquarters, a block away, was written in Bohemian, Lithuanian and Slavish, and before it was discovered that the documents were appeals for the election of Mr. Taft, most of the literature was mailed to the voters.

The Powers Against Francis Joseph. Constantinople, Oct. 14.—The German ambassador has declared to Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish foreign minister, that Germany would follow the line of conduct adopted by Great Britain regarding the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria. As a consequence of the attitude of the powers, Austria-Hungary now stands alone.

Feeble Old Lady Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

Vinol is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists.

AN ABSURD CHARGE PROMPTLY EXPLODED

Keefe Denies That He Was "Approached" by President.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14.—President Daniel J. Keefe of the Longshoremen's union has categorically denied the statement issued from Democratic headquarters in New York that he had been offered the position of commissioner general if immigration in return for his support of W. H. Taft.

New York, Oct. 14.—The Democratic national committee, through John J. Gordan, assistant and acting chief of the press bureau at headquarters, has made public the following statement: "It was stated at the national Democratic headquarters that President Roosevelt, by promise of office, has succeeded in having one of the big men of the American Federation of Labor desert President Gompers in his advocacy of the election of Mr. Bryan for the presidency.

"The labor leader in question is Daniel J. Keefe of Detroit, president of the International Association of Longshoremen, and one of the vice presidents of the Federation of Labor. "The Democratic committee alleges that Keefe and the president were closeted for several hours in Washington on Saturday, Oct. 3, and the offer of being named commissioner general of immigration, made vacant by the death of Commissioner Sargent, was made in consideration of Keefe repudiating Mr. Gompers and the executive council of the federation.

"Keefe, on Saturday last, issued a statement in which he said: 'I am going to vote for William H. Taft.' "It is pointed out that on Sept. 28 last the executive council of the American Federation of Labor issued a circular calling on organizations of labor to work for the defeat of Mr. Taft and Republican congressmen, seeking reelection, and Mr. Keefe authorized his signature to be attached to it.

"The source of the Democratic committee's information was not divulged, but the information was offered that if Mr. Keefe or President Roosevelt deny the charge, another big labor leader, now in New York, will come forward with facts to prove that the offer was made and Mr. Keefe accepted it and has commenced to make good his part of the deal."

COMPETITION SUPPRESSED This Charge Has Been Sustained Against Insurance Companies. Belleville, Ill., Oct. 14.—Judge Moore in the circuit court here, has issued a permanent injunction restraining 110 fire insurance companies doing business in Illinois, from fixing rates and maintaining a joint agent at East St. Louis. The suit was begun in June, 1902, by H. J. Hamlin, then attorney general of Illinois. It was directed against the Aachen & Munich Fire Insurance company, 109 other companies and M. F. Zent, the joint agent in East St. Louis. Combination for the unlawful suppression of competition and fixing of rates was alleged. Evidence was taken in Belleville, East St. Louis and Chicago, and on some of the issues the case went to the appellate court.

PARLIAMENT IN STATE OF SIEGE

British Law Makers Stormed by Suffragettes.

CLIMAX OF WOMEN'S CAMPAIGN

Numbering a Vast Crowd of Sympathizers, One Hundred Thousand London Suffragettes Hemmed in Parliament and for Hours Stopped All Traffic in Streets Leading to Westminster and Disorganized Things Generally in Central Part of City, Designing to "Rush" Parliament.

London, Oct. 14.—The climax of the suffragette campaign was reached last night when an enormous mob hemmed in parliament and stopped traffic in all streets leading to Westminster. For more than three hours the crowds scuffled good-naturedly with the police, interfered with theater-goers, broke windows and disorganized things generally in the central part of London.

The heroine of the day was Mrs. Travers Symons, formerly secretary to James Keir-Hardie, the Socialist and Independent member of parliament, who reached the door of the house of commons by strategy. The house was solemnly debating a bill to prevent children from cigarette smoking, when the woman dashed past the doorkeeper to a position in front of the speaker's chair and shouted shrilly: "Leave off discussing children and talk about women."

Three officials seized Mrs. Symons and carried her out bodily. She was then led to the outer door and dismissed. As a result of the coup, an order was issued that hereafter women shall not be admitted to the building on any pretext whatever, and in the future the historic grills will not screen feminine spectators.

The appeal issued by the suffragettes a few days ago for 50,000 persons to help them "rush" parliament at 7:30 o'clock last evening, was the most successful stroke yet. Not less than twice that number responded to the call, and nine-tenths of these were young people who came to see the fun. There were also a few hundred of the unemployed and their sympathizers.

Parliament was in a state of siege. A close triple line of police was drawn around the three sides of the square in front of the building. The yard within the gates swarmed with police and 200 guarded the terrace in the rear against assault by water, which the women twice attempted. A small fleet of police boats also patrolled the Thames approaches.

All the mounted police in London and suburbs had been mobilized at this center and loads of hay were unstacked in the streets for the horses. The while the police force, together with cavalry, infantry and marines, numbering more than 5,000, was kept busy in restraining the pushing, struggling masses, especially about Trafalgar Square, where the Nelson monument looked down upon dense crowds in all directions, with busses, motor cars and cabs, mostly filled with sight-seers, trying to thread their way through.

The police kept the streets adjoining the house of commons clear. Elsewhere they endeavored to the best of their ability to keep the people moving. The crowds cheered, sang songs and hooted, giving voice to all the sarcastic remarks that a London crowd is capable of. These were aimed in a semi-good-natured manner at the suffragettes, who, distinguished by their orange sashes, swarmed everywhere, distributing tracts.

A delegation of thirteen suffragettes which approached the police cordon and was formally refused admission to parliament, attempted a football rush, but the police chivalrously repulsed the women with the least possible roughness. Two bodies of the unemployed, however, which approached the line, were driven off with little saving grace, one across Westminster bridge and the other to St. James park. The police were pelted with vegetables and some stones in a few minor skirmishes that occurred, but nobody was seriously hurt. Twenty-four suffragettes and twelve of the unemployed were placed under arrest. Many persons fainted in the crush. A few were trampled upon and taken to the hospitals.

Mrs. Parkhurst, Miss Christabel Parkhurst and Mrs. Lawrence were summoned to court Monday for inciting a breach of the peace. They coolly refused to obey the summons, but agreed to surrender themselves at 6 o'clock last evening, which they did spending the night in the B. W. street station. The suffragettes and unemployed have kept obstinately the whole police force on duty continuously for forty-eight hours.

New Rule of Thief. New York, Oct. 14.—Representing himself to be a real estate agent, young man of businesslike appearance and well dressed gained access to the home of Sumner Field McLean, a wealthy Brooklyn publisher and while Mrs. Beatrice Masten, sister of Mrs. McLean, was showing the man over the premises he suddenly overpowered her, tied a gag over her mouth and then leisurely searched the house for valuables. The robber got away with jewelry and silverware worth $1,000.

Judge Taft represents the Square Deal, standing upon a square platform, founded in political, economic and social welfare.

Bryan cannot escape from his record in favor of government ownership. His great mistake is in trying to persuade the people to let him own the government.

What would an instantaneous picture of Bryan present a rear view? Because it would represent him as always moving away—away from free silver, away from imperialism, away from government ownership, away from every other issue on which he has turned his back.

As the day for election draws near the interest deepens and excitement increases. This is not to be regretted, provided people do not lose their temper or become so narrow-minded as to be unable to do justice to others of different views. It is a good thing to keep cool and sweet at such a time. It prevents much hard feeling and makes it easier to accept the verdict at the polls, which will be Taft for president and Watson for governor of Indiana.

Many significant hints of the attitude of the business community toward Mr. Bryan are coming to light as the campaign draws toward its close. Not the least significant of these is the announcement that two men of standing, named by the Bryan organization in Massachusetts as Presidential electors have notified the Democratic State Committee that they would not be able in any case to serve as Bryan electors because they are for Taft. It must be rather demoralizing to a party to find the men whom it has chosen as its special representatives and trustees opposed to its leading candidate.

Mr. Bryan has tried will all his craft to put to sleep the alarm of business men by his attitude in the present campaign. He has maintained the silence of the grave, even on the plank of the Denver platform which declares for further issues of government paper. Thus far, however, wild horses have not been able to draw from him a distinct repudiation of free silver nor a straight forward promise that he would use his discretion to the best of his ability in maintaining public credit in time of stress. This is one of the vital issues of the campaign, much as Mr. Bryan would like to have it obscured and forgotten. No wonder that the residence wards of Chicago, the homes of the substantial business men of the city, show a tremendous registration. Quiet though they have been thus far, the business men of the country are evidently prepared to put up a quietus on Bryan which ought to be final and conclusive and permit sane Democrats to reorganize their party upon a basis which will appeal to those who gave it character in days gone by.

CORINNE BUNDY WAS FOUND DYING

And Expired Before Any Assistance Could be Rendered—Death Proved Shock to Friends.

DECEASED WELL KNOWN HERE

About 7:30 Tuesday morning word came to New Castle that Miss Corinne Bundy was found dead in her room at the Delaware hotel, of which her father is manager, says the New Castle Tribune.

Later information stated that when found she was yet living, but unconscious, and that all efforts to rally or restore her were of no avail.

The family had a private party at the hotel Monday night, and a young lady friend remained all night with Corinne, the two occupying separate beds in the same room. When this young lady arose to dress for breakfast, she discovered Miss Bundy's condition and gave the alarm.

At first it was given out that death was due to acute indigestion, but the physicians attribute it to slow poisoning due to a throat affection, which culminated in heart failure.

There will be a funeral service at Muncie Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m., after which the body will be brought to New Castle, where a short service will be held in the Presbyterian church, followed by interment in Southmound.

Miss Bundy was well known in Rushville, having many relatives and friends here.

BY THE WAYSIDE

Levi Crull, one of the Democratic stalwarts of Washington township, has the study of politics down to a gnat's heel. He is going to vote for Bryan this year—but incidentally may vote for Watson, he is undecided about that, so far—and here is the reason's he gives for supporting Bryan:

"I voted for Bryan the first time he ran; I voted for him the second time he ran; I voted for Parker when he put that gentleman up and now I am going for Bryan again. Why shouldn't I? Have'n't we had good times ever since I began voting for Bryan?"

Says the Chicago Record: "William J. Henley has been elected a director of the Mutual bank to take the place of J. P. Byrne, resigned. Mr. Henley is president of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad company and Belt railroad. He was elected chief justice of the Appellate court of Indiana at the age of 30, leaving that position to become vice-president and general counsel of the Chicago and Western Indiana. Upon the resignation of Mr. Thomas as president he was elected president of the road."

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaudet offers a deviation for tonight and tomorrow night in a pleasing story of the plains, entitled "The Cattle Rustlers," a series of pictures which is not overdrawn and shows conditions which really exist in the western country today, a picture that carries intense interest from beginning to end, one that will be appreciated by all classes. Miss Liddle will sing a new ballad.

The Grand theater will have a complete change of program tonight. Good films and illustrated song. "A Great Wrong Righted" is a most interesting story that carries with it a good moral. Another comic film is shown.

MAKES ASTONISHING CURES

Mi-o-na Tablets Cure Dyspepsia by Promptly Removing the Cause, or Money Back.

Mi-o-na is a scientific and effective remedy for the permanent cure of indigestion.

Food is digested in the stomach by means of a churning movement of the walls of the stomach, which thoroughly mixes the food with the gastric or stomach juices.

If the muscular walls are flabby and lack tone or energy, the stomach cannot churn the food properly, and the digestive juices are not properly mixed with the food.

This causes indigestion. The common symptoms are: weight and fullness after meals, coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, discharges of wind from the mouth, and belching of sour material.

Dyspepsia cannot be cured by taking a digester, such as pepsin, because pepsin simply digests your food artificially, and not all of the food either, for it has no effect at all on starchy food, such as potatoes, rice, oatmeal, bread, etc.

There is just one way to cure dyspepsia and stomach disorders, trivial or serious, and that is to tone up or put energy into the stomach walls, so that they will be able to properly mix or churn the food.

Mi-o-na tablets cure stomach troubles by putting strength and energy into the stomach. They quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction, and in a short time it is able to do its work properly.

And bear in mind that when the stomach is in good condition, constipation disappears, also nervousness, drowsiness, night sweats, heartburn, etc.

F. B. Johnson & Co., the druggists, sell Mi-o-na tablets under a rigid guarantee to do all that is claimed for them, or money back.

"Health Coffee" is the cleverest imitation of real coffee ever yet made. Dr. Shoops created it from pure parched grains, malt, oats, etc. Fine in flavor—is made in just one minute. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. Sample free. Sold by F. B. Johnson & Co.

SEVENTY-FIVE DELEGATES HERE

In Attendance at Indiana Synod—Dr. Webster Elected to Fill Chair in Xenia Seminary.

FORMER PRESIDENT RETIRES

Many Colleges Over the Country Supported by the United Presbyterian Church.

The Indiana Synod which is meeting in the United Presbyterian church is one of the chief supporters of Monmouth college at Monmouth, Ill. This college has an attendance in its different departments of nearly five hundred students and is one of the leading colleges of the Central West. It has an alumni list of nearly fifteen hundred and has enrolled during the fifty years of its existence nearly sixteen thousand students, many of whom have been from Indiana and Western Illinois.

This college lost one of its main buildings last November by fire, but is now building two fine structures to replace the loss.

A number of our young people here in Rushville have been students at this college. The names of Miss Orma Innis, George Puntenney, Jr., and Gladstone Barrett were found on the rolls of Monmouth last year. Many leading members of the Synod are graduates of Monmouth college. Among them might be mentioned:

Rev. Edgar McDill, Madison, Ind.; Rev. Thos. Hanna, Bloomington, Ind.; Rev. F. W. Schmunk, Vevay, Ind.; Rev. Wm. M. Lorimer, College Corner, Ohio; Rev. John H. Henderson, D. D., Dayton, Ohio; Dr. Joseph Kyle, Xenia, Ohio; Dr. R. H. Hume, Springfield, Ohio; A. J. McCracken, M. D. Belfontaine, Ohio; Rev. Ross Hume, Clifton, Ohio; Rev. J. A. Speer, Columbus, Ohio; Rev. F. O. Ross, Xenia, Ohio; Rev. C. E. McStravick, Dayton, Ohio; Dr. J. E. Wishart, Xenia, Ohio; Rev. C. G. Morrow, Oxford, Ohio; Prof. J. E. Bradford, Oxford, Ohio; Dr. S. R. Lyons, Richmond, Ind.; Dr. J. H. Moorehead, Hamilton, Ohio; Rev.

Frank E. Dean, Findlay, Ohio; W. B. Bryson, Esq., Xenia, Ohio; Dr. W. T. Campbell, Monmouth, Ill.; Rev. W. J. Buchanan, Monmouth, Ill.

The meeting continues to draw large crowds and already over seventy-five delegates have arrived.

The address, "Christ's Leadership" last night by Dr. Watson was very interesting. The business meeting after the address was drawn out until a late hour. Dr. Moorehead, late president of the Xenia seminary at Xenia, Ohio, has retired and Dr. Webster was elected to fill the vacancy.

An interesting program is arranged for tonight and tomorrow.

MAKE PLANS FOR THE ELECTION

Metropolitan Dailies Arrange for Advance News on Prediction in All Communities.

MUCH HARD WORK PLANNED

The metropolitan daily papers, which have correspondents in every county seat in the United States, are causing a heavy increase in the mails just now. The big dailies are asking for advance information concerning politics. The correspondents are instructed to remain on duty all night on November 3, and if they themselves cannot attend to this they are to arrange for some one else to serve for them.

The big papers spare no expense in compiling election news and the duties imposed on the correspondents at such times are arduous, exacting and tiresome.

THE NEW WHEAT IS NOT UP AND DOING

Reports from many of the farmers in Rush county tell a disappointing story about the wheat that has been sown recently. It is said that although some of the wheat was sown more than three weeks ago there is no sign of it appearing above ground and farmers are greatly worried. Prior to the big rain of ten days ago a good deal of wheat in this country was planted in dust, the farmers thinking that rain was due with the equinoctial period. Rain finally came, and although it lasted for nearly nine hours, it appears to have had no effect on the wheat in the ground.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

Dr. Wade of Augusta, Georgia, was here this week, the guest of his friend, John Abercrombie. The doctor told an amusing incident which occurred when he was enroute from the South to Rushville. Coming out of Georgia he took a sleeper. Together with a crowd of other fellows, he sat about in the smoker of the Pullman, chatting and telling stories until the hour for retiring came. One fellow quit the crowd early in the evening, going to bed before eight o'clock. Of course, this provoked some comment, most of them being of the opinion that the "early to bed" fellow was a minister. His berth was directly across from Dr. Wade and the doctor swears he was unable to sleep a half hour at a stretch during the night because the fellow's snores could be heard above the roar of the engine and rolling train. In the morning the doctor took occasion—in a nice, gentle, gentlemanly, southern fashion—to remind the fellow of his "beautiful" snoring and roaring proclivities. The two fell in for a long chat. And guess who the supposed minister was? Chaffin, the candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket.

WHY SUFFER?

Breathe Hyomei and Kill the Loathsome Catarrh Germs.

Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and spit, and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. The germs of catarrh have got you in their power; they are continually and persistently digging into and irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat. They are now making your life miserable; in time they will sap your entire system of its energy, its strength, its vigor and vitality.

If you do not kill the loathsome germs of catarrh, their desperate assaults will in time undermine your reason, rob your brain of its brilliancy and activity, and leave you not only a physical but a mental wreck.

This picture is not overdrawn; the writer has seen thousands of just such cases. He has personally experienced the demoralizing results that come from the ravishing attacks of the horrible catarrh germs, the greatest pest of civilized nations.

But there is one remedy that will kill the germs and cure catarrh, and that is Hyomei, the Australian dry air treatment. There may be other remedies, but they are not guaranteed as F. B. Johnson & Co., the druggists, will guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh, or money back. Don't delay the pleasant antiseptic treatment.

Every day you allow these germs to exist in your system brings you nearer to complete demoralization. F. B. Johnson & Co. will sell you a complete Hyomei outfit for only $1.00. Ask them about it. It is also guaranteed to cure bronchitis, asthma, coughs, colds and hay fever.

OLD SOLDIERS WITH WATSON

Jabez Smith Made a Trip Through Northern Part of State With Good Results.

FEW WILL SUPPORT MARSHALL

Old War Veteran Stands Loyally
Behind James E. Watson for Governor.

Jabez Smith has returned elated from a trip through the northern part of Indiana, where he found that most of the old soldiers would vote for Watson. Mr. Smith left Rushville last Friday morning for the express purpose of learning the sentiment of the old soldiers generally towards the Republican candidate for governor. His success was far beyond anything which was expected. About ninety per cent. of the war veterans declared themselves in favor of Watson. And all of them who said they would vote for Marshall were Democrats before the war and have been ever since. The sentiment of the old veterans is strongly in favor of the candidate from this city and they say they will elect him by a large majority.

Mr. Smith first called on the Anderson Post, where he found 165 enrolled, 161 of whom intend to support Watson. From there he went to Marion, where he found only seven who would support Marshall out of 219. Bluffton, a Democratic stronghold, was next invaded. Here he found 64 old soldiers, half of which number said they intended to stand by Watson. The next stop, Port Wayne, Mr. Smith found the Post numbering 190, all but ten being enthusiastic followers of Watson. The Post at Huntington numbered 70, fourteen of whom said they would vote for Marshall.

The next stop was made at Wabash where 164 old soldiers are enrolled. Of this number 150 said they intended to stand loyally by Watson. From Wabash Mr. Smith went to Peru. Here he found 75 war veterans, 55 of whom are Watson supporters. The last stop was made at Muncie where a large number was found. At this Post they numbered 184, sixteen of whom claimed they intended voting for Marshall. Mr. Smith returned Monday evening very much elated at the unexpected results of his trip.

Good Bye Cary!

Jesse McKinney, one of the Democratic members of the House that voted with the Republicans for the county option measure at the recent session of the legislature, was in Rushville the latter part of last week. He came here to look at a property with a view of locating in Rushville. During the last two sessions of the legislature Mr. Kinney has been a seat mate of Cary Jackson of Rush county. At the conclusion of the vote taken on the county option measure, Mr. Kinney says Cary Jackson turned to him and said: "Well, Kinney, do you know what that vote cost me? It means that vote will be the cause of me getting beat this fall. It will cost me my seat in the legislature." And so it will.

THE MAIN QUESTION

With some people is whether Bryan or Taft is elected and other whether Jim Watson or Tom Marshall carries the state, and still others whether the Cubs or Tigers win the World's Championship of the baseball world.

But the Main Question with all of us is where to get that shoe we want to wear this winter. We will tell you to come here for we have the best line of good winter shoes we ever had. Come and let us show you, whether you live in Missouri or any other state. For Men we have high and regular cut in Tan and Black. The high cuts range in price from $2.50 to $6.00 the pair and every pair is guaranteed to be worth even more than we ask for it. The regular cuts run from $1.50 to $5.00 the pair.

We have for the Women, Misses and Children the best line of shoes that is in the city. Take a look at the new Directoire Boot made of tan Willow Calf, 12 inches in height, blucher lace, brass eyelets, and a large strap and brass buckle at the top. Something swell it is and the price is only $4.00. Also Patent Colt and Gun Metal in the high cuts. Wine, Tan, Black and Oxblood in the latest street boots price $3.50 a pair.

Bring that boy in, let us put a shoe on him and after he wears it, if you say it is not the best shoe he ever had for the money it won't cost you one cent.

Give us a trial and we will convince you of the truth of our assertions.

Lady Betty
Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON * COPYRIGHT, 1936, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

Louise was on the scene armed with my keys and Mrs. Ess Kay wouldn't hear of letting me do anything myself. "Now, I'll explain why I had to desert you on the dock," she said. "Or perhaps I needn't explain. If you watch Louise unpacking for a few minutes you'll see for yourself. And I do hope, sweet child, that you'll excuse my taking a liberty."

This made me curious. Louise opened one of my boxes which had had been labeled "Not Wanted," and I could hardly believe my eyes when she lifted out an exquisite poppy colored chiffon, embroidered with sprays of golden holly and berries made of some gleaming red jewel.

"Why, there's been some extraordinary mistake!" I exclaimed. "That can't be my box. I've no such dress."

"I know, love, but I have," said Mrs. Ess Kay, "and, thanks to you, I've got it and several others through without paying duty. I thought you wouldn't mind, you're such a dear pet and it's been such an accommodation. Not that I care about the money, but I do love to get the best of those fiends at the custom house, and I have, for once. You see, it was like this: When Louise went to the baggage room to get out some things for you I had them put in my trunks afterward and some of my dresses changed into yours, as your frocks had all been worn and mine hadn't. I told Louise to put my things down at the bottom, some in each of your trunks, and I was pretty sure the man wouldn't touch them, as you're a British subject. I trusted to luck that you'd be too cute to say anything and give me away if you saw the dresses while your trunks were being examined, but I just hoped he wouldn't dig down to them. I dared not tell you what was going on, as Sally said I ought to, because if I had you might have refused or else spoiled everything by being self-conscious. If you'd been with me the fiends might have caught on to our little game, there's so suspicious, but where you were they never suspected any connection between us. You're just a dear."

I had been a dear in spite of myself, but there was no use in making a fuss, now the dearness was all over, whatever I might have done if I'd known beforehand that I was to be a cat's paw. Perhaps if I hadn't been given the feed stuff with the strawberries I might have been crosser; but, fortified by that, I lived up to my reputation as a dear during the half hour of the unpacking.

When my frocks all hung in a row like Bluebeard's wives, in the cedar wardrobe, and I was left alone with them at last, my first thought was to unlock my imprisoned roses in water; my second, to do the same with myself.

The hope of tea (which hadn't been fulfilled) and a bath had kept me alive through those two hot hours on the dock, and now I could choose between several kinds of bath, each one more luxurious than any I had ever known. At home there's either the big bath, in the bathroom, or there's a tub in your bedroom, so it doesn't take you long to make up your mind which you will have. But here there were so many things I could do that I grew quite confused among them.

There was the big bath, so big that two of our big ones at Battlement could have gone into it, and instead of climbing ignominiously in the ordinary way you walked down several glittering white marble steps. It was very alluring, but as the marble tub was so vast I feared I might have to spend all the rest of the afternoon in getting it full of water. It seemed impertinent to make a convenience of such a splendid, early Roman sort of receptacle for a mere five minutes of such magnificent ought, I felt, to be what Americans call a "function," a ceremony for which you would prepare with perfumed ointments and ambergis and protract for half a day at least, not to be wasteful. Then there was the vapor bath, which you took in a kind of box with a hole for your head to stick out; a porcelain sitz bath and a mysterious shower bath into which you secretly retired behind canvas curtains shaped like a sentry box.

I dared not try the vapor for fear I should be steamed like a potato, the sitz seemed as inadequate as a thwarted ambition, and to turn on the shower without knowing how much it could do or how soon it could be stopped appeared a desperate adventure. After all, I thought, it was less worrying with us. Here, whichever thing you chose, you would probably wish you had had the other, whereas at home you did what you could and were perfectly satisfied.

I decided that I would toss up a coin; heads the big marble tank, tails the shower. It came tails, and I had a dreadful qualm, but, noblesse oblige, one must be sporting. So I was, only the hot water wouldn't come and apparently there was ice in the cold, which wouldn't stop coming, and it was very violent. I screamed once, and Mrs. Ess Kay and Sally and Louise ran to the door, which was embarrassing, but fortunately I'd locked it, and they told me how to stop the feed water. When it was all over I felt like a marble statue for hours.

Dinner was at half past 7, which seemed odd in such a grand palace of a house, because of course at home, for some extraordinary reason unless you are in the middle classes, you never have an appetite before 8 at the very earliest. If you're in France or other countries on the continent you can be hungry sooner, and evidently it is the same in America. Perhaps, if I were scientific, I should be able to classify these differences as natural phenomena.

I had dressed myself early and was ready a little after 7, because I thought it would be nice to sit in the fountain court, but just as I was going down Louise knocked at the door.

"I have come to help miladi and to bring her these flowers," said she. "They are with a million compliments from monsieur the Lieutenant Parker, the brother of madame."

"But I have never met him," I said, gazing with wonder upon a group (bunch is too mean a word) of mammoth pink roses, with thickly leaved stems longer than walking sticks. There were at least a dozen of these splendid creatures, loosely held together by trails of pink satin ribbon, wide enough for a sash. I had never dreamed of such roses. I almost expected them to speak.

"Miladi and the lieutenant will meet at dinner," explained Louise. "It is an American custom that the messieurs send always flowers to the ladies. Mme. and Mlle. Woodburn have received bouquets also, but these roses for miladi are the most beautiful. Is it miladi's wish that I untie the ribbon and take out one or two for her to carry?"

I was on the point of saying "Yes," because the flowers were so lovely and because it would please Mrs. Ess Kay, but on second thoughts I said "No," thinking Louise and asking her to put the creatures' feet in water. Perhaps it would be as well, I reminded myself, to see this brother of Mrs. Ess Kay's (of whose existence I'd never heard) before I went about armed with his roses. I had already tucked the white bud which had come to me on the dock like a dove with an olive branch into the low neck of my frilly white muslin frock, and I gave it no rivals.

"Has madame gone down?" I asked, for it occurred to me that it would be awkward to find myself alone for nearly half an hour with a strange man.

"I think madame will be in the hall," said Louise. And, satisfied, I descended in a stately way suited to the house into the fountain court. Nobody was there, however, except a young man in evening dress, who jumped up from a chair and set down a small glass out of which he had been drinking.

"Allow me to introduce myself," said he. "I know you must be Lady Betty Bulkeley. My name is Potter Parker."

I couldn't help wondering whether his friends called him "Pot" for short, and the thought made me smile more than I would have smiled at a stranger if it hadn't popped into my head. This seemed to encourage him, which I regretted, because you can see at once by his face that he isn't the kind who needs encouragement. It is something like Mrs. Ess Kay's face, only younger, with her square chin and bold blue eyes as pale as hers. The likeness was the stronger because Mr. Parker wears no mustache or beard, and his dark hair, which falls in two thick blocks over his forehead, is combed in the middle. You would have thought you saw him riding a white horse to the north pole that he was an older than young man. Why or how, I don't know, but I'm beginning to think that all American men and all American women have a dim sort of family likeness to each other. With the girls, it's their chins and the way they do their hair. But with the men it's more mysterious. They look less lazy and more feverish than our men, yet at the same time more humorous, and their clothes seem always to be new.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—only—take Shoop's Cough Cure. It always heals, soothes, and eases the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good!! Here's for this very reason, mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

DUPESILLA:

It's what you can do all the time with Gold Medal Flour that counts. Try it. ANGELA.

He Was a Warbler.

You could tell from his hair that he was a musician or something of the sort.

"Yes," he said to the company at large, "the greatest tenor in the land once paid me the biggest compliment I could wish."

"Oh?" remarked some one interrogatively.

"It was like this: I sang without accompaniment—I always have trouble with accompanists; they're so unsympathetic, you know—and at the end of the song he said to me:

"Do you know when you began without an accompanist I was surprised; when I heard you I was astonished, and when you sat down I was delighted!"

And the sun shone down and lit up the youth's beatific smile of satisfaction.—London Mail.

The Sun's Light.

It has been calculated that the amount of light received from the sun is about 600,000 times that of the moon. The intrinsic brightness of the sun's disk is about 90,000 times that of a candle flame, 150 times that of the limelight and more than four times brighter than the brightest spot in the crater of an electric arc light. The darkest spot on the sun is much brighter than the limelight.—New York American.

How to Fish.

On many occasions one might imagine the fish saying to the anglers, "Take me while I am in the humor," but they take no notice of it and often attempt the feat when they are not. It is little use trying to catch fish either in the sea or fresh water when they are not in the humor to bite.—Fishing Gazette.

He Was a Negative.

"He said he felt greatly encouraged because you turned the gas down low when he was calling on you."

"Well, he needn't feel encouraged. It takes a dark room to develop a negative, you know."—Philadelphia Press.

Advice.

"You wants to look out foh de man dat's always givin' advice," said Uncle Eben. "De chances are dat he's one o' dese folks dat likes to watch experiments while some one else takes all de risk."—Washington Star.

Unless the average man is overestimated he feels that he is not appreciated.—Philadelphia Record.

CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduse No. 770 for large tall women. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides, also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduse No. 772 for large short women. Is the same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the New W. B. "Hip-subsiding" model from $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.

BABY'S ITCH EASILY CURED

Infantile Eczema Quickly Relieved by External Use of Oil of Winter-green Compound.

Infantile eczema, which has baffled the skill of the best physicians for so many years at last seems to be curable—and curable with great ease.

Results of the last two years indicate conclusively that baby's itch, infantile eczema and other skin diseases of children can be very simply cured by the application of a compound composed of oil of winter-green, thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription.

The Rev. Lewis Steeley of Weatherly, Pa., writes:

"Our baby boy's little face was so dreadfully covered with eczema that blood and water ran from the sores nearly all the time. After using 3½ bottles of D. D. D. Prescription we are so happy to tell you he is entirely cured and the disease has never broken out again. If this letter is in any way a help to other sufferers, you may publish it."

If you have a child which is suffering with this terrible itch, we are sure you will not neglect one hour to give your baby the right kind of relief. We have seen too often how quickly the remedy mentioned above takes the itch away at once and how all the cures seem to be permanent; we have seen this too often to hesitate at all in recommending the remedy for your children.

Cubs Nearing the Goal.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14.—Chicago crept one game closer to the world's baseball championship yesterday by defeating Detroit, 3 to 0. Chicago has now won three games of the series as compared with the one annexed by Detroit at Chicago Monday. "Eddie" Summers, Detroit, and "Miner" Brown, the premier pitcher of the Chicago team, opposed each other and the latter had all the better of the argument, although Summers pitched excellent ball in all but one inning. Paid admissions, 12,907.

Bryan in Nebraska.

Wahoo, Neb., Oct. 14.—Accompanied by all the Democratic candidates for state offices with the exception of one or two, William J. Bryan yesterday campaigned in his own state, and last night at this place completed the first of his three-days' Nebraska tour. Big crowds greeted him at every point, and when his day's work was over he had delivered twenty-one speeches, varying in length from five minutes to an hour.

Death of First Volunteer.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Dr. Charles Franklin Rand, the first volunteer to enlist in the Union army after President Lincoln's call for troops, and the first soldier to receive from congress a medal of honor for bravery, is dead, aged seventy years. INDIANA POLITICS

ROBERT G. TUCKER.

Indianapolis, October 14.—Chairman Hayes of the Republican speakers bureau last night gave out the itinerary for Taft's tour of Indiana next week. The special train will start from Cincinnati the morning of Oct. 22 over the Baltimore & Ohio road. The first stop will be made at Lawrenceburg. Taft will speak at Lawrenceburg, Aurora, Osgood, Brownstown, North Vernon, Seymour, Mitchell, Bedford, Indian Springs, Elkhart, Linton, Terre Haute, Sullivan, Vincennes, Princeton and Evansville on the first day. A big night meeting will be held at Evansville. The trip next day begins at Brazil. From there the special train will be run to Greencastle, Crawfordsville, Lafayette, Frankfort, Kokomo, Greentown, Marion, Muncie, Anderson, Knightstown, Rushville, Shelbyville and Indianapolis. On the following day Taft will visit Greenfield, Richmond, Portland, Winchester, Decatur, Fort Wayne, Columbia City, Warsaw, Goshen, Elkhart, South Bend, Laporte, Michigan City and Hammond, finishing at the last point late in the afternoon and going from there to Chicago for a night meeting. The itinerary calls for sixteen speeches the first day, fourteen the second and fourteen the third, a total of forty-four.

The appeal of Attorney General Bingham from the refusal of the superior court at Kokomo to admit the state as a party to oppose the granting of a saloon license against which no remonstrance was filed, has been dismissed by the supreme court. The court says that a proceeding to obtain a saloon license is a civil action, which may be opposed by any citizen or citizens entitled to file a remonstrance, but it says that the board of commissioners is required to act judicially in granting or refusing an application, "and not as the attorney general insists, to act or serve in the capacity of an agent of the state. The effort of the attorney general to thrust forward the state as the real appellant in this case finds no warrant under the law. In so doing he has placed himself in the position of one who attempts to act as an agent without having any principal behind him. Neither he, in his official capacity, nor the state can be said to have any legal standing in this case." In the case appealed from a license to sell intoxicating liquors in Kokomo was denied Thomas B. Gorman by the board of commissioners. On appeal to the court the license was granted.

The first proof of the ballots for this year's election have come from the press of the state printer. There are state and national tickets, the Independence League having the last position on the ballot. The state board of election commissioners estimates that there are 779,384 voters in Indiana this year as against 737,114 in 1906. The estimates are based on reports furnished by the county election boards. The state will print and distribute next week 1,160,000 ballots. Although several counties are using machines, the total number of precincts has increased to 3,250. W. W. Spencer, legal adviser of the Democratic organization, has estimated that Bryan will have to gain ten votes to the precinct over his total of 1900 in order to carry Indiana. Taking 1904 as a comparison, it would be necessary for Bryan to gain twenty-eight to the precinct, but neither side will make comparisons on that year as the result was abnormal.

Taft by 45,000 and Watson by at least 25,000 was the way the members of the Republican state and executive committees sized up the situation yesterday afternoon at a closed conference held at the headquarters at the Claypool hotel. As far as the national ticket is concerned it was the consensus of opinion that Taft will romp in ahead of Bryan. The meeting did not disclose any new conditions. It was noticeable, however, that those who have charge of the campaign were more optimistic after the meeting than they have been for the last month. Chairman Goodrich, Acting Chairman Sims, Vice Chairman Dinwiddie and others declared that the reports indicate that the conditions are improving and that while the state ticket will run behind Taft and will lose thousands of votes in the large centers, it will win.

The enforced supervision by state officials of all the books and accounts of county and township officers and the establishing of a uniform system of accounting are among the reforms which the Indianapolis Merchants' association will advocate for relief from future graft in county and township offices. This was made known at a meeting of the committee appointed by the association several months ago to investigate methods whereby the county offices can be rid of future graft investigations.

DUKE'S HEART BOWED DOWN

Broken Engagement Will Send the Abruzzi on Perilous Trip.

Rome, Oct. 14.—It has been learned positively that the engagement of the Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins has been broken. The duke himself made the announcement to the royal family in a telegram from Tourin Saturday, the publication of which has just been permitted.

The duke does not attempt to conceal his sadness at the unfortunate termination of his love affair with the American heiress. He will start on a perilous exploration trip in order to divert his mind from his grief. At whose instance the engagement has been broken is not stated, but there is a well authenticated rumor that Miss Elkins took the leading part in the affair.

Maybe 'Tien't So

London, Oct. 14.—The Daily Telegraph's Rome correspondent says that he is able to state on the highest authority that the wedding of the Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Elkins will certainly occur very soon.

HOW TO CURE SKIN DISEASES.

Eczema, pimples, dandruff and itching skin diseases are of local origin and are caused by germs. In order to cure these diseases the germs and their poisons must be driven to the surface of the skin and destroyed. Salves and greasy lotions may give temporary relief, but they do not destroy the germs that cause the disease. A St. Louis chemist has discovered a clean vegetable liquid remedy that will draw the germs and their poisons to the surface of the skin and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin. This remedy is known as Zemo, and by its many remarkable cures has attracted the attention of the leading scientists and skin specialists of this country and Europe.

Zemo has been given the most cordial reception by the public of any similar remedy ever produced, and it is recognized as an honest medicine that makes honest cures.

Zemo is for sale everywhere. You can obtain a trial package free by writing to the E. W. ROSE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. Mr. F. E. Wolcott has secured the agency for Zemo in Rushville, and will gladly show you proof of some of the wonderful cures made by this remarkable remedy.

HORSES DYING OF STRANGE DISEASE

Northern Indiana Farmers Suffer Heavy Losses.

DISEASE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN

In the Counties of Pulaski, Starke and Laporte Since Early Last Summer No Fewer Than 1,500 Horses Have Succumbed to a Strange Disease Which Manifests Itself by the Presence of Hair-Like Worms in the Internal Organs of the Stricken Animals.

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 14.—It is estimated that farmers in Pulaski and Starke counties and those in the southwestern part of Laporte county have lost 1,500 horses since early last summer from a disease of unknown origin. The horses, as a rule, when attacked by the malady, droop as if consumptive, and finally die. In a few instances they recover, but when they do they are mere wrecks and have to be killed. One man killed four that survived the attack of the disease.

An examination revealed the fact that the liver and other organs of the dead animals were infected with long worms, no larger than a hair, and it is the popular belief that the worms are bred inside the horses from minute eggs taken with the grass of pasture lands.

The loss of horses in the affected district has discouraged the farmers. Many of them have lost every horse they have, and it is unsafe for them to buy any more to do their fall plowing. Out of seventeen horses one farmer has six left and some of the six are unfit for use.

It has been noticed that mules are not affected by the disease, and a horseman of Starke county has gone to Kentucky to buy all the mules he can get to ship into the infected district and sell to the farmers.

DOG RETURNED ALONE TWICE

Then Search Was Made for the Hunter and He Was Found Dying.

Paoli, Ind., Oct. 14.—Sherman Appel, living near Moore Ridge, a few miles southwest of here, was killed in a peculiar manner while out hunting. Appel, who was about nineteen years old, took his gun and dog and went to the woods. The dog returned without its master. The dog again went to the woods and returned a second time alone. Fearing something might have happened to the boy, a party went in search of him. They found him beneath a tree, unconscious, with his skull badly fractured. The fracture is supposed to have been caused by a limb falling on the boy while he was trying to dislodge a squirrel. He was taken to his home, where he soon died.

Grand Army Will Participate

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—Oran Perry, adjutant general of Indiana, who will be grand marshal of the parade on Oct. 27, when the Harrison monument is unveiled, has extended an invitation to the department commander of the G. A. R. and his staff to attend the ceremonies, and has asked that Captain John D. Alexander, department commander, assume command of all Grand Army posts and civil war veterans in line. Colonel J. R. Fesler, assistant adjutant general of the Indiana G. A. R., has just received a letter from Captain Alexander, in which the latter expresses the hope that many civil war veterans will attend the Harrison monument exercises. It is expected the attendance of G. A. R. men at the dedication will be large.

Fruit Trees Crowding Things.

Petersburg, Ind., Oct. 14.—Both cherry and pear trees are blooming for a second time this year, and at the home of George Gordon is a pear tree with a second crop of pears half grown and many blossoms. On the farm of John Fordyce, four miles east of here, there are four cherry trees in full blossom, and blossoms are to be seen on the trees in this city.

Flames Sweeping the Kankakee.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 14.—A great prairie fire is sweeping in fury over a large section of country in the Kankakee country. Ten thousand dollars is a conservative estimate of the loss. Wolves, driven from the marshes by the fires, are raiding the barnyards of farmers in the southern part of this county.

Grand Jury Investigating.

Kentland, Ind., Oct. 14.—The grand jury is investigating the cases of D. P. Baldwin of Logansport and W. P. Dague of Fowler, who are alleged to have wrongfully used the funds of the Goodland bank, which was closed by order of the state auditor, after an official investigation made some months ago.

Young Woman's Fatal Mistake

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 14.—Miss Corinne Bundy, eighteen years old, and the only child of O. P. Bundy, proprietor of the Delaware hotel, took carbolic acid by mistake for a throat gargle, and was found dead in her apartments at the hotel.

ANOTHER RULING IN HAZZARD CASE

Judge Macy Holds That New Bond Should Have Been Required When Case Was Venued.

CASE HAS A HISTORY HERE

Judge Macy of the Randolph Circuit court was on the local bench this morning, sdys the New Castle Courier, and made a ruling in the Hazzard bond case, which had been venued to him. The suit was the State vs. C. W. Mouch, to collect the $500 appearance bond signed by the defendant for George Hazzard in one of the criminal actions brought against him, and which was venued to Rush county. Judge Macy has sustained the demurrer to the complaint, holding that a new bond should have been required when the case was sent to Rush county.

Prosecuting Attorney G. M. Barnard states that he will immediately appeal the court's ruling to the Supreme court.
